The Office of Financial Aid and Scholarship must, by federal regulations, identify students living in housing located on a military base or housing for which they receive a basic housing allowance from the military. Students in this category are only eligible to receive an allowance for board in the determination of their federal financial aid awards. Please provide the information requested below for you (and your spouse, if you are married).

We cannot determine aid eligibility or disburse funds until all requested documents are received and reviewed. If we have already disbursed funds to you, an adjustment to those funds may be required.

Possible effects on your financial aid

This change in federal aid regulation means that any federal aid recipient who receives housing allowance will have a reduced Cost of Attendance (COA) which may reduce your eligibility for campus based aid programs such as federal work-study, FSEOG, and/or federal student loans. If you are receiving military housing allowance, and you have already received your fall disbursements, your spring will be reduced to eliminate any possible overawards. If you do not plan to attend for spring or the reduction in spring aid does not fully resolve the overaward, repayment will be required.

Please check the appropriate box.
